Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, It all started with one man, W. R. Cutler, who moved from Faranac, Michigan, to a homestead near Claremont, South Dakota. One hundred years have passed and now there are Cutlers almost everywhere you look; and,

WHEREAS, W. R. and his wife, Eva, had four boys and four girls of their own in the late 19th Century. These days there are Cutlers in Texas, Arkansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Iowa , Kansas, Washington, California, Colorado, North Dakota, Massachusetts, Florida, Maine, and South Dakota (did we forget anybody?); and,

WHEREAS, Though families may split apart in a geographical sense, distance cannot break the powerful bonds of emotional and spiritual togetherness; and,

WHEREAS, The truly devoted family, no matter how scattered by time and space, will make frequent attempts to "keep the lines open," occasionally gathering together en masse to celebrate their lives and loves for one another; and,

WHEREAS, Such is the case of the "Cutler Clan," a large and loving group of close-knit kin that vary in age from 88 (W.R.'s son, Homer) to three months (Bruce's boy, Grant Robert); and,

WHEREAS, In deference to the memory of W. R., Eva, and the over 200 Cutlers to be gathering in Claremont this weekend, a plaque will be dedicated on the original barn, still standing after a century of use; and,

WHEREAS, South Dakota welcomes the returning members of the Cutler Clan and wishes to thank the entire Cutler family for the tremendous contribution it has made to the heritage of this state. May your celebration be a memorable one:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim June 25-26, 1983, as

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-fourth Day of June, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Three
